

SEVERE FIGHTING.

It Resulted in a Temporary Check of Gen. Kuropatkin's Advance Guard.

NOT A GENERAL ENGAGEMENT.

The Superiority in Numbers of the Russians Will Compel the Japanese to Fall Back.

Everything Points to That District as Being the Prospective Scene of the Decisive Struggle of This Year's Campaign.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12.—Severe fighting north of Yentai, resulting in a temporary check of Gen. Kuropatkin's advance guard, of which the press correspondent at Mukden telegraphed the first news, is not regarded at the war office as indicating a general engagement. The latest official dispatches indicating the disposition of the various corps shows that the whole army is not yet in line of battle. The present engagement may therefore be regarded as the result of a counter attack which an enterprising foe like the Japanese might be expected to make, but without any calculation to prevent the Russian advance. Gen. Kuropatkin's present superiority in numbers, it is held here, is bound sooner or later to compel the Japanese to fall back upon their strong positions within the triangle formed by Yentai, Liao Yang and Syk-wantun. Everything points to that district as being the prospective scene of the decisive struggle of this year's campaign. Strategic reasons of the most weighty character render it imperative for the Russians, as well as for the Japanese, to bestow their chief attention upon the country east of the railway.

The Russians are compelled to this course because the railroad runs north-eastward and hence lines of communication are more vulnerable from the east. The Japanese are influenced by a similar consideration, but the railroad no longer plays a foremost part in their plans. In view of the approaching close of navigation at Yinkow and of the fact that the line from Pitsewo is long and cumbersome and liable to interruption, they must consider Feng Wang Cheng and Takushan as the source of supplies during the winter, and with this in view the eastern communications of Liao Yang are of the utmost importance. The Yentai triangle is admirably situated to protect them. Field Marshal Oyama must therefore hold this triangle at all costs. The problem confronting Gen. Kuropatkin in the immediate future is the capture of the fortified heights composing this triangle where the Japanese will have the advantage of fighting behind breastworks and utilizing their superiority in mountain guns. The general superiority of the Japanese in mountain operations is conceded. The Russian commander undoubtedly is aware of the difficulties of the task before him, has measured them well, and is confident of his ability to overcome them.

USED MAILS TO DEFRAUD.

James Tobin Convicted and Sentenced to the Penitentiary.

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 12.—James Tobin was convicted in the United States court here on the charge of using the mails to defraud, and was sentenced to a term in the penitentiary. Tobin's victims were Chicago real estate men. Tobin represented to them that he lived in Minnesota and that he knew of some valuable land that was owned by certain heirs in Illinois and Indiana, who, not knowing the value of the land, would close out cheap. The Chicago men entered the deal and from each place where an heir was supposed to live Tobin sent for money to close the sale. After receiving a considerable amount in this manner Tobin disappeared, but was discovered and finally captured at Linton, Ind.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 12.—The Kentucky court of appeals Tuesday upheld the judgment of the Christian circuit court in refusing to grant Capt. Cyrus Radford, of the United States navy, a divorce from Florence Robinson Radford on the grounds of infidelity. Mrs. Radford was the daughter of a naval officer, and they were married at Washington in 1896. They agreed to separate in 1900, and Mrs. Radford went to New York city to reside. Her husband employed detectives there to watch her, and they gave rather sensational testimony by deposition against her. The courts here ruled the testimony out as being incompetent.

He had been drinking a great deal for some time, and it is generally conceded that this was the cause of his committing this awful deed.

Statue of Frederick the Great Presented to American People by Kaiser William.

TO BE UNVEILED ON NOVEMBER 19.

It Will Be Placed on the Esplanade of the Army War College, in Washington City.

Ceremony Will Take Place in the Presence of President, Cabinet, Diplomatic Corps and Army and Navy Officials.

Announcement of the program for the unveiling ceremonies so far as it has been completed was made Tuesday night.

The ceremonies will be prefaced by a prayer to be offered by an army chaplain. The German ambassador, who is a native of America, then will pull the silken cords holding the American and German flags surrounding the statue and the statue will be presented by the German ambassador, who will make a brief address. The great address of the day will be made by the president. The third and last address will be made by the secretary of war, Mr. Taft, who will speak for the army. The marine band will play the national anthems of America and Germany between the addresses.

There are a number of details yet to be arranged after the return of Secretary Taft to Washington.

Half-past 2 o'clock in the afternoon is the hour set for the unveiling.

The statue arrived in Baltimore several days ago. It will be shipped to Washington soon, unpacked and erected on the pedestal selected for it on the esplanade overlooking the Potomac river.

With the continuation of the drought, the water famine throughout the interior counties becomes more distressing. Many wells and cisterns that have not failed in years have given out and citizens are carrying and hauling water many miles. Salt river, upon which Harrodsburg depends for its water, has gone dry, and the waterworks company has been compelled to shut off the supply of that city, reserving all the water for an emergency fire. In Fayette County ponds and creeks have failed and stock is being driven to water. The drought has also affected the fall growth of pasturage, and unless considerable rain falls within the next few days the wintering of stock will become a serious proposition, and feed stuffs will soar skyward.

DIVORCED PEOPLE.

Proposed Change in the Canons of Episcopal Church Dismissed in House of Deputies.

AN AMENDMENT WAS PRESENTED

It Forbids Remarriage of Any Persons Who Have Been Divorced Whether Guilty or Innocent.

A Minority Report Was Made By the Committee Permitting the Present Canon to Remain as It Is With One Exception.

Boston, Oct. 12.—A proposed change in the canon of the Episcopal church, whereby clergymen are forbidden to remarry any person who has been divorced, was discussed for two hours by the house of deputies at Tuesday's session of the Episcopal general convention. The house of deputies was sitting as a committee of the whole, and the consideration of the subject, regarded as one of the most important to come before the present convention, will be taken up from time to time until the matter is finally disposed of. The present canon on marriage permits the remarriage of the innocent person in a divorce suit wherein infidelity is alleged. For some time there has been a strong sentiment in the church that the clergy should not remarry even the innocent person.

The committee on canons, of which Rev. Dr. F. P. Davenport, of Memphis, Tenn., is chairman, presented an amendment to the present canon forbidding remarriage of any persons who have been divorced. A minority report permitting the present canon to remain as it is with the exception of an added provision for the presentation of court evidence when an applicant for remarriage appears before a clergyman, was submitted by Rev. Dr. J. Lewis Parks, of New York, and others.

Rev. John Williams, of Omaha, Neb., said: "I do not want to give the benediction of the Church of God to a marriage as to which I am in doubt. I am in doubt about the passage in St. Mathews gospel, but I take the position that what God can not bless, no priest, bishop or even a pope can bless."

Rev. G. B. Van Waters, of Portland Ore., in a fervent address, declared that the divorce reformers of the church were requiring more than Christ himself required, and that such a canon as the majority report proposed would drive persons to other denominations. He advocated letting "Well enough alone."

AGAINST THE RAILROADS.

The Case of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce Decided.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The interstate commerce commission decided the case of the Cincinnati chamber of commerce and Merchants' exchange against the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railroad Co. and other roads centering in Cincinnati. The complaint was against the early closing of the railroad freight depots for reception of outgoing package freight. The commission holds that the disadvantage now involved to Cincinnati is not unreasonable, but may become so if the present condition is continued indefinitely. The complaint was dismissed without prejudice to further necessary proceedings.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 12.—A count of the votes in the recent state election by Secretary of State Phil Cook reveals the fact that in Fulton county, of which this city is the county seat, 13 votes were cast for Capt. Robert M. Hitch for governor of the state. Floyd and Richmond counties gave Capt. Hitch four votes each for the same office. Capt. Hitch is now being tried in Savannah by a court-martial on serious charges of failure to do his duty in connection with the Statesboro lynching.

Weather Forecast.

Fair to-night and Thursday; warmer Thursday.

KENTUCKY Democrats were never more united or more confident. The questions that split them into factions have been settled forever.

"SPEAK softly and carry a big stick," is Roosevelt's motto. The majority of the voters of this county are carrying a big stick all right, and when they apply it, Teddy will not be any prettier than he is now, but he will know more.

In many cities white Republicans have taken charge of certificates of registration belonging to the negroes. It will be tragic if the colored man and brother in November demands the market price for these valuable pieces of paper before he will consent to vote.

SENATOR BLACKBURN is so satisfied with the situation in Kentucky that he has answered the call of the National Committee and will take the stump in Indiana. He will return in time to make a final assault on the demoralized ranks of the Republicans, however.

THE Democratic Vice Presidential candidate is striking some telling blows at the Republican administration these days. Here's an extract from his speech at Baltimore Monday: "The people will have to decide whether the policy is to be continued of permitting partisan participation in the work of the election by the 100,000 salaried office-holders, including members of the Cabinet. The civil service law, its rules and regulations are being set at naught and the army of Government employees is laboring for the continuance in power of the present administration. This can be done only at the neglect of their duties and to the detriment of the public service."

Secretary Shaw is the high roller of the Roosevelt administration. His contact with the millions that the United States Treasury receives and pays out has evidently made him a reckless spendthrift of government funds. In speaking in Oregon the other day he improvidently said: "I am not talking for ship subsidy; but I am willing to pay the price that will give us ships that will carry our trade." Of course, the prodigal Shaw would not think of a subsidy to the ship trust, but he is quite willing to "pay the price." Millions for subsidies, enormous appropriations for the army and navy, and vast increase for the civil expenses constitute the administration program—all of which will have to be met by an issue of bonds or more taxes.

The American people are now burdened with a depleted treasury, with imminent danger from Republican extravagance of still larger deficits, yet Secretary Shaw, who ought best to know of these things, is an ardent advocate of subsidies.

"TARIFF FOR REVENUE"

Assumes the Responsibility of Replying to a Question Regarding Mr. Kehoe's Position on An Important Subject.

Editor Bulletin: The mouth-piece of the trust magnates in this section of Kentucky wants to know if Mr. Kehoe will vote to repeal the tariff of 1894. I take the liberty in Mr. Kehoe's absence to say that robbers of every kind, sweltering in the blood of the sons of toil, will not find much comfort in the vote or what Mr. Kehoe has to say before the law-makers in Congress on the subject of the tariff. Steel rails for inter-state railroad robbers and tin plates to shelter trust magnates do not interest the fellow carrying one of McKinley's empty dinner buckets half full of protected bull beef at 30 cents per pound, sandwiched between robber baron's flour at two prices compared to the wages of the consumer of same.

Little old strutting pie-eaters sucking the public teat for the last forty years see the cattle grazing toward the green pastures beyond the protected fence that is falling into decay from a rot, and a stinking rot, that has become unbearable to any man that has one idea above the bump on a log.

Yes, Mr. Kehoe will vote for a modified tariff over the present one in vogue, and that tariff will be a revenue tariff to sustain the Government in its legitimate expenses attached thereto, not a tariff or a vote for tariff that saps the very foundation of the Government, and that is the common people, the people that toil with their hands at manual labor, who wield the pick and shovel or bend the iron at the forge or delve in the earth for fuel to keep those warm that rob them. These are people that need the fostering care of our law-makers; they know nothing of laws or tariffs. All they know is toll the living day and into the night that they may have a bare sustenance for to-morrow.

If you think Mr. Kehoe does not have these people in every heart-beat of his existence do not vote for him. Vote for that other fellow who believes in an imperialistic form of tariff; that is, a central head that takes the power from the law-given part of the Government (Congress) and with boots and spurs bangs and clubs everything into submission to his fancied royal, regal, intellectual swelling, commonly known as big head.

Yes, this other fellow you may rest assured, you tollers of the toll, you delvers in the mine, you forgers of the iron and you pick-and-shovelers on the railroad, will not only vote for a trust on clothing, meat and flour, but will vote for bayonets to suppress you when the load becomes burdensome.

Effective Speech Made to a Large Crowd in Opening the Campaign in Nicholas Monday.

The Campaign Committee is doing its full duty toward urging the voters the necessity of coming out to vote.

Talk About the Best Field Fence

And you're bound to mention the "American." Its merits have been widely discussed and are familiar to those who have given it a trial. As a stock and all-purpose fence it must be acknowledged that it has no equal in the world. Made of large, strong, high-grade steel wires, heavily galvanized. Amply provides for expansion and contraction. Is practically everlasting and never goes wrong, no matter how great a strain is put on it. Will not mutilate, but does efficiently turn cattle, horses, hogs and pigs. Used as a division fence in towns or cities, the "American" is handsome, efficient and inexpensive. Every rod guaranteed by the manufacturer and by us. Call and see it. Can show you how it will save you money and fence your fields so they will stay fenced. Prices lower now than ever before.
